

Workmen Claim Strike Pending; Official Denies

President Of Art Works Says No One Was Discharged For Circulating Petition—Employee Says Wages Must Be Increased To $1.75 Per Day.

C. R. Frederickson, president of the American Art Works, in a statement to The Tribune last night denied emphatically that the employees of the paint shop at the Standard plant had threatened to strike unless their request for an increase in wages of 25 cents per day was granted by the company.

He said: "The company received by mail a politely worded petition asking that the company consider the matter of an increase of 25 cents per day to the laborers in that department. The petition was signed by several but I do not think that there were fifty signatures attached. No threats were made and no time limit set."

59 Per Week.

Speaking further in regard to the matter, he said: "There is no uniformity in wages paid at the plant. Many young boys are employed and some of these receive 7 1-2 cents per hour. Among the men, however, no one is paid less than $9 for a week of 54 hours or a nine hour day scale. Many are working overtime and they receive time and a half for this labor. I anticipate no trouble and feel that it would be unjust to the employees to say that they had threatened to strike unless their demands were granted."

"Two men, he continued, were discharged by Mr. Carpenter, superintendent of the plant, but not for circulating the petition, at least not according to my information. I have no knowledge of five men being discharged and do not feel it to be true."

Another Story.

Information, however, reaching The Tribune last night from an anonymous source, was to the effect that the Standard plant of the American Art Works was facing an immediate strike of the 159 employees in the paint shop as the result of alleged discharging of five men for circulating petitions for signatures asking an increase in wages from $1.59 per day to $1.75 per day, with time and a half for overtime as at present. The men were discharged Thursday, it was said.

Many Signers.

It was said that more than a third of the employees in the paint shop had signed the petition and that the remainder were willing to sign. Their signatures, it was said, were not secured because those circulating the petition were discovered and discharged before all the men had been approached.

Time Limit Set.

It was stated last night that one of the five men discharged had been reinstated last night but that this would have no effect on the attitude of the men and that unless the company not only reinstate all five men immediately but grant the increase of 25 cents per day as asked, the men would walk out. June 7 is set as the time limit for the company to give its answer, according to The Tribune's informant.

CROSS DOG SHOT.

The cross dog belonging to David Norris, of South Sixth street, and which attacked and bit little Evelyn Lockard, of South Lawn avenue Wednesday night, was turned over to the police and executed Thursday.

John Tarney was locked up last night by Officer Williams who placed a charge of intoxication against his prisoner.

Ethel Elson 'Thot To Have Eloped With Local Youth

Relatives of Miss Ethel Elson, of Water street, were much concerned last day Thursday, over the young lady's disappearance, and it is thought that she has eloped.

Wednesday evening, the girl went to the home of a neighbor, and told her that she was leaving home to get married. In order to prevent her father, Henry Elson, from suspecting that she was going up town, she ran down toward the river, and has not been seen by any member of her family since. About four weeks ago she attempted to elope with a young fellow, named Smith, whose home is on Kentworth avenue. It is likely that she and the young man have been successful in avoiding the girl's father, and were married, after leaving town.

Miss Elson is about 22 years of age, and is quite an attractive looking girl. When she left home Wednesday evening she wore a black and white checkered skirt, a dark blue corduroy coat, and a white hat. Her mother lives in Canton, and there is a possibility that the couple have gone to that city.

Rumor That Ministerial Association Endorses Teddy Without Foundation

Considerable interest was aroused yesterday in both church and political circles in regard to statements current on the streets that at a recent meeting of the Ministerial Association petitions were circulated with the end in view of securing both money and pledges of support for Col. Roosevelt's candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

These reports had it that a no less personage than the Rev. Dr. E. O. Huxton had the petition in tow. The stories that reached The Tribune were somewhat in conflict. Some declared the petition was generally signed by members of the Ministerial Association. Others were to the effect that they received scant consideration, only two or three signatures being secured.

Prohibitionists Peeved

Republicans who had heard the rumors were inclined to be non-committal. Democrats inclined to the view that such a procedure was of doubtful propriety. Straight-out party prohibitionists were outspoken in their denunciation. They cited that fact that Roosevelt admitted on the witness stand to have a well stocked wine cellar and that he had never been a total abstainer. One of them also took occasion to say that Roosevelt's belligerent temperament and outspoken defense of war were hard to reconcile with the fundamental doctrines of the New Testament.

Not The Association

The Rev. D. C. Boyd was called twice in regard to the circulation of the alleged petition. The first time he denied that the petition had been placed in circulation and said that whoever intimated that a petition was brot before the ministers "was laboring under a brainstorm." Later he admitted that the petition was presented, but that no action was taken by the association, the petition being signed purely by individuals.

Dr. Buxton Explains

Dr. Buxton, who circulated the petition, stated that it was set of blanks, sent out from Roosevelt headquarters in New York, for the ministers to fill in if they desired to become members of the Roosevelt Non-Partisan League. Roosevelt sympathizers signed, and others, of different political views, did not sign. Dr. Buxton said that the petition was signed "by a few preachers, and that the affair was a matter distinctly outside of the ministerial association, simply brot up before the meeting was called to order, because the men all happened to be together at that time."

Opposed To Teddy

Rev. C. H. Hood, pastor of the Church of Christ, was very much anti-Roosevelt, and said that he refused, point-blank to sign, or even read the petition. He made several strong statements in regard to the matter. Mr. Hood is president of the ministerial association. He said that the action taken by the members who signed was purely personal, and that nothing was done in the name of the organization.

When Rev. A. B. Williams, of the M. P. church, was interviewed, he said that he would rather not give out any statement in regard to the matter, but that the Roosevelt petition had been presented to the ministers at a meeting.

Blanks Returned

In view of the fact that the action of the ministers who signed the blanks was not recorded by the secretary, Rev. D. C. Boyd, in his minutes of the meeting, it is evident that the signers of the blanks was an affair of individuals, and not of the ministerial body. Dr. Buxton stated that nothing had been heard from the petition since the blanks had been returned to New York.

Bass Season Again Open

Bass season reopened Thursday and numerous fishermen tried their luck. A few small catches were reported but no one had a large string to show for the day.

With the reopening of the season many will try for the prizes offered by the Coshocton Sporting Goods store for the largest black bass and largest wall eyed pike or Muskalung caught by a Coshocton county fisherman from June 1 to November 1.

Burton Call, proprietor of the store, stated last night that his firm would give three prizes consisting of $5, $3 and $2 worth of merchandise for the three largest black bass caught by county fishermen, and $5 worth of merchandise for the largest wall eyed pike. An 88 Shakespeare level wind reel will be given for the largest musky or wall eyed pike. The only conditions attached to the contest are that the fish must be caught by Coshocton county residents on rod and line and the fish must be weighed in at the Coshocton Sporting Goods store.

Dies After Long Fight

NEW YORK, JUNE 1.—Dr. Albert Curtis Perrell, of Brooklyn, who fought almost eighteen months against "sleeping sickness," infected thru the bite of a tsetse fly, is dead. He died when under observation in Roosevelt hospital, where it had been intended to operate on his spine in a last effort to overcome the malady.

Doctor Perrell, who was born in Hackensack, N. J., forty-two years ago, was physician for a mining camp several years in the Belgian Congo.

When he first went to the Congo he was bitten by a tsetse fly, and soon afterward developed the "sleeping sickness." A trip to Paris for treatment at the Pasteur Institute resulted in his discharge several months later as cured.

Returning to the Congo, he was bitten again, or subjected to a renewed attack of the worms in his system. Eighteen months ago he made his second trip to Paris for treatment, at on account of the war was unable to obtain the treatment he desired.

After several New York physicians had attended him, he was able to sit up and to walk virtually alone for the first time in months. That was in March.

Two weeks ago he was taken to the Roosevelt hospital.

Motorbike And Huff Are Gone

Armed with a writ of replevin Constable D. W. Bassett, took possession Wednesday of a motorcycle and sidecar which is owned by Cyrus Huff, now of Alliance. Huff's wife lives in this city and recently brot an alimony action against him. She claimed an interest in the motorcycle and sidecar.

Bassett had the machine appraised and took it down to Fourth street leaving it in front of the Fourth street entrance to the Burns building. While the officer was at home eating his dinner, the machine and Huff disappeared.

Sprague Has Close Call

By mere chance it appears the motor cycle races at Fairlawn park Memorial day were devoid of accident. Clifford Sprague and his Harley racer, were in imminent danger throughout the last event, the 25 mile race. When his machine was overhauled following the race, it was discovered that the rear tire had been rim cut a distance of some five inches thru the outer rubber and the canvas fabric, leaving only the inner rubber fabric to prevent the tire from collapsing and an inevitable spill perhaps resulting seriously.

Keene Hill Is Repaired

The repair work on Keene hill has been completed, and the road is now open for travel, after having been closed for several weeks. The old macadam has been resurfaced with a bituminous treatment, and the improvement in the condition of the road is marked. The steepest part of the hill has been repaired. More work will be put on the road later in the season.

75 Barrel Oil Well Is Drilled In At Helmick

Column Of Oil Gushes Forth When Shot Is Fired—Drilled To Depth Of 1200 Feet Before Trace Of Oil Is Found—Leased By Pittsburg Oil Concern.

Interest in the Helmick oil field was revived Thursday when the well drilled in by the Kauckle Brothers on the "Old Company Farm" about a mile south of Helmick and under lease to the Crawford Moyer Oil and Gas company, of Pittsburg, was shot and a column of oil belched into the air.

While the well had not been baled out last night it was said that it would probably prove to be the best producer in the Helmick field which was opened five years ago. One estimate last night placed the flow at 75 barrels per day.

Many Acres Leased.

Liquor Out Of Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, JUNE 1.—Voted out of business by popular vote last March, the 209 barrooms, 42 wholesale liquor houses and 7 clubs closed shop tonight throughout the Province of Manitoba. Winnipeg is the first city of its size, nearly a quarter of a million, to go dry on its own vote. The prohibition measure swept the province at a two to one proportion.

Manitoba is the third western Canadian province to abolish saloons or restrict the sale of liquor. Alberta goes dry on July 1; in Saskatchewan, the government has taken over the sale of all liquor, and a vote on prohibition has been promised there for the coming December.

Irish Factions Finally Agree To Form Truce

GLASGOW, MAY 31.—A truce that may develop into permanent peace has been arranged between the political factions in Ireland, says the Herald. Much credit for the settlement of the troublesome Irish question goes to David Lloyd George, the mediator. An Irish parliament is to be established, the Herald says, but Ulster province, or the greater part of it, will be excluded.

The leaders of the Irish Nationalists and Ulster Unionists met for the first time on Tuesday when the chief points in dispute were discussed. After a harmonious session the Nationalists and Ulster men cordially shook hands across the table.

When home rule goes into effect many of the counties in Ulster will take advantage of the feature of the law allowing them to exclude themselves by popular vote.

Birrell Contradicted.

LONDON, MAY 31.—Viscount John French, commander-in-chief of the home forces of Great Britain, in a letter to Baron Hardinge, chairman of the royal commission, investigating the Irish uprising, stated that the war office abstained from sending troops to Ireland upon the advice of Augustine Birrell, formerly secretary for Ireland in the English cabinet.

This declaration is a contradiction of the statement made upon the witness stand by Mr. Birrell. The ex-secretary for Ireland had stated that he had sought to have troops sent to Dublin, fearing trouble with the Sinn Feiners, but that the war office disregarded his plea.

Viscount French's letter was read when the inquiry into the Sinn Fein revolt was resumed today.

After reading the French letter, Lord Wimborne was recalled. He had previously testified that he was a mere figurehead, having no real authority. He amplified this statement by saying that this condition of affairs was largely the result of precedent.

"I signed all proclamations and documents on the advice of the chief secretary (Mr. Birrell)," said Lord Wimborne. "They were put before me for my signature and I was not consulted as to their character. I regarded myself as a figurehead."

100th Day At Verdun Gives Germans Gain

NEW YORK, MAY 31.—Today, the hundredth day of the battle of Verdun, sees the Germans slowly but continuously creeping up on the great French fortress which in defensive strength is second only to Paris itself.

Since the battle began the French have persistently failed to stop the Germans permanently. At the very outset the French were surprised by the suddenness of the German onslaught, and during the first period of the battle the local commanders at Verdun decided to abandon the east bank of the Meuse where the Douaumont and Vaux fighting has occurred.

General Joffre's chief lieutenant, rushed to Verdun, reversed the orders of the local commanders and the first drive of the Germans was checked.

Check Only Temporary
But the check has never been more than temporary. The Germans have been compelled to fight desperately for every foot of their advance since General Castelnau ordered the eastern bank of the Meuse defended, but the fact cannot be evaded that the advantage of gains remains with the Germans.

The crown prince has conquered about 100 square miles of territory during the past 100 days. The battle front forms a little more than one-third of a circle about Verdun for a distance of 25 miles. The average depth of the German gains is four miles, which represents to the east of the Meuse, one-half the distance to go from the former German front to Verdun.

To the west of the Meuse, however, where the heavy fighting at Dead Man's hill and Cumieres is occurring, the Germans are three miles further away from Verdun than on the Douaumont and Vaux side. The Cumieres and Dead Man's hill engagements, in fact, are efforts to even up the distances separating the German loop from Verdun.

Charny ridge, west of the Meuse, is the present main objective of the Germans and if this is taken, the German forces on both sides of the Meuse will be within the four-mile radius. A further advance of one mile will then bring Verdun within the dangerous three-mile range of the enemy's artillery. This is the limit of range for the small caliber guns which are the most effective weapons of both armies.

Depends Upon Reserves
Will Verdun fall? It depends on the number of available French reserves. The German assert the French are now using their last reserves at Verdun. But it is open to the French to increase their strength at Verdun if the British take over more of the front in western France.

Since the Verdun battle began the British have added 45 miles of trenches to their former holding of 50 miles in western France and Belgium. The French still occupy 25 miles of western trenches extending to the south of Noyon, where the battle front turns eastward.

That corner, however, protects the road to Paris and the French may hesitate before they abandon to anybody the guardianship of the direct Paris approaches.

'BONEHEAD' DIVORCE GROUND

Mrs. Nonie Carl of Butte, Mont., Resents Term When Applied by Husband—Sues.

Butte, Mont.—Nonie Carl filed suit asking for divorce from Herbert J. Carl, whom she married on August 2, 1915. She alleges that he called her a "bonehead" and also threw a box of matches at her. The plaintiff recites that the matches ignited when they struck the wall and set fire to a dresser scarf. While this was burning, the woman alleges, her husband shouted, "I wish you would burn up, too!" As a result of this cruelty, Mrs. Carl says she fainted and has since been in impaired health.

Mrs. Carl declares that her husband started to treat her in a cruel manner within a month of the day on which they were married. The complaint was drawn by Attorney Charles F. Juttner.

HIDES HUBBY'S FALSE TEETH

Pittsburgh Man Swears That Was the Method Wife Used to Get Money.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—It behooves all married tightwads who wear false teeth to beware. Often the subject of ridicule, artificial teeth have at last been found to serve a practical purpose in domestic life.

Frank Jefferson in divorce court told a harrowing story of the manner in which his wife had frequently forced him to "come across" with money by the simple expedient of taking his false teeth and hiding them.

The odd thing, to Jefferson's way of thinking, was that even when he waxed angry his wife would refuse to return his teeth. Only Uncle Sam's coin of the realm would persuade her that her husband's molars were essential and necessary to his daily existence.

Beyond the Frontier

By Randall Parrish

A tale of early days in the great Middle West when the intrepid explorer La Salle, and his faithful friend, Tonty, were blazing the way for civilization, and the golden lilies of France flew from the few lone blockhouses in the Indian country.

Most of the action of the story takes place on the long trail from old Quebec to Fort St. Louis (Starved Rock), on the Illinois River. Adele la Chesayne is a wonderful heroine. Bravely she bears the hardships of the wilderness journey, and when the life of her lover is in danger it is her wit and devotion that defeats his enemies and her own.

In "Beyond the Frontier" Randall Parrish is at his best, and one episode alone, that of the savage Indian attack on Starved Rock, will be read and reread for its thrilling realism.

It will be published serially in these columns. You will want to read it!

PAWNS HAT TO PAY PARSON

But Georgia Bridegroom Must Still Pay One Dollar to Get Marriage Certificate.

Savannah, Ga.—A swain whose name is Sam Wilkerton spent his last hard-earned money for a marriage license, concluding the purchase in January. After considerable conversation with the preacher regarding rates, he pawned his hat and became united in marriage. There is one thing missing from Sam's happy life, and that is the marriage certificate, the official record of the union bought with a hat.

Sam pawned his hat, and, securing a dollar for this bit of haberdashery, carried the coin and his fiancée to the altar, leaving the one and becoming the better half of the other. The 50 cents he reserved for housekeeping, and in doing so felt that Cupid had put one over on ministerial shrewdness.

Thus the ceremony was performed, and Sam kissed the bride, while his left hand reached out for the marriage certificate, but his latter move was intercepted.

"That'll cost you one dollar," said the minister.

And that's the situation. Sam swapped his hat for a bride, but lacks the dollar to prove his union.

MAN FIGHTS WITH JELLYFISH

In Desperate Struggle He Breaks Loose From Tentacles, But Suffers Great Pain.

Santa Barbara, Cal.—G. H. Wilson lies at the Cottage hospital in a critical condition from as thrilling and unusual an encounter as has ever taken place here. He had a life and death struggle with a huge jellyfish. Four hundred feet from shore, off Sorensen, Wilson, who is senior partner of the firm of Wilson & Schwab, automobile men of this city, was suddenly attacked.

He saw before him what he says with their sister, Mrs. John McCune and family.

Among those who were in Coshocton Saturday were Mrs. Finley Lawrence, Mrs. John Erman, S. A. Eamon and Chris Royer.

Thyless Lawrence attended the social given by the Band Boys at Chatham, Tuesday evening.

looked like a great sheet of butter and eggs. Suddenly strips of yellow and white began to separate from the mass and extend toward him. He turned to swim out of reach when the creature threw its tentacles about him and the mad fight was on. In the struggle Wilson broke the mass into fragments, but reached the shore exhausted, and his face and shoulders stinging as though from scalds.

At the hospital it was said that the patient is getting along favorably. His pain at times was so intense that morphine had to be administered. His shoulders and face resemble one mass of poison oak burns.

A Hunting Expedition.

One night a pretty young matron was sitting in a moving picture theater with a young friend when a young woman came in and took a seat beside her.

"Why, Bessie," wonderingly exclaimed the young matron, recognizing the newcomer, "what in the world are you doing here alone?"

"I'm looking for a husband, dear," was the quiet response of the other.

"A husband?" exclaimed the first, full of perplexity. "Why, you have a husband?"

"Yes," sweetly smiled Bessie. "That is the one I am looking for."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Severe Test.

A young man given to purple and fine linen, but not at all addicted to work, waited upon a prominent citizen and asked for his daughter's hand.

"What are your prospects?" asked stern papa.

The young man was rather indelicate on this point, but finally blurted out that, although he had no position at the time, he would die for the young lady in question.

"All right," snipped the father. "Get insured for $10,000 and make good."—Exchange.

Increasing Safety and a Seven Per Cent Income

We have been selling industrial preferred stocks for twelve years at prices that yield a net income of 6% to 7%, and not one of the purchasers has ever lost a dollar of principal or income. Each of our current offerings is a splendid example of the type of securities we recommend, and a careful study of our guide is a guide to all the others.

If you have $100 or more that you want to invest safely on a 7% basis, send for the attractive booklet that describes our current offering, the 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock of The Graham Motor Truck Company, of Lima. The price is $10 a share, and the net income 6.93%.

This company's certified audit, December 31, 1915, shows that it earned more than $500,000 during the preceding 11 months—and that it had only $740,100 of preferred stock outstanding on that date. When the present issue has been sold there will be only $1,250,000 of preferred stock outstanding—on which the annual dividend charge will be $87,500 a year—less than one-fifth the net profits for 1915. The same financial statement shows net tangible assets of nearly $1,900,000 or approximately $250 behind each $100 par value of preferred stock.

We have prepared a 16-page booklet about the history of this established enterprise, and have included our own analysis of its prospects for the future. A detailed financial statement and a chart of the legal safeguards that appear on the preferred stock certificates, are contained in the same book. If you want to increase your stock of knowledge about safe and profitable investments without incurring expense or obligation, send us your name and address today so that we can mail you a copy of this booklet. Use a post card, and don't now forget you forgot.

GERMAN FOOD SUPPLY CHIEF PESSIMISTIC OVER HARVEST

AMSTERDAM, MAY 31—Heir Von Batoeki, president of the new German department of food supply, spoke pessimistically before the Reichstag today over the prospects of the new harvest. The situation, he declared, was also serious in regard to the supply of fats.

Special harvest services were held in German churches last Sunday.

Hot Water and a Glass.
Why does a glass break when hot water is put into it and does not break when it is put into hot water? The hot water inside the glass makes the layers on the inside tend to expand. But they cannot expand, being held fast by the colder outer layers, so they buckle on themselves and the glass breaks.

When, however, we dip the glass into boiling water it is the outer layers that tend to expand. They have room to do it, not being compressed by the inner layers, and they gradually drag these inner layers with them as the heat spreads to the latter. So there is nothing to make the glass break.

THEATRES

"Everywoman"

Henry W. Savage believe in giving amusement-lovers who do not happen to reside in and around New York the same privilege of seeing worthy performances of his production "Everywoman" as the New Yorker himself. Therefore, in ending on tour his immense production of "Everywoman" he has not cheapened the cast or cut out any of the happenings. The production as a whole, just as it was seen on Broadway, New York, for two years, will be offered at 6th St. Theatre tonight.

The effort to tour a production the size of "Everywoman" is an extraordinary one. In the first place there are really three separate organizations merged into one. There is a large dramatic company of thirty-five speaking characters. Then there is a grand opera company with soloists and chorus; and lastly there is a musical comedy company with principal parts and chorus. Added to all this there is a scenic production which requires two sixty foot car for transportation from city to city; tons of mechanical electrical effects and costumes which were especially manufactured in Paris for its production. Then to round out the whole there is a symphony orchestra to render the score that was specially composed for "Everywoman" by George Whitefield Chadwick, dean of the New England Conservatory of Music of Boston. It is claimed that the production of "Everywoman" represents a cash expenditure of upward of sixty thousand dollars and over a year's constant effort on the part of the several departments of the Savage producing offices in New York. Mr. Savage considers "Everywoman" his greatest triumph as a producer. In view of his splendid productions of "Parsifal," "Madame Butterfly" and "The Merry Widow" the strength of this statement becomes apparent.

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health:—

Frankfort, Ky.—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 616 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice,—it will be confidential.

Misery in Back, Headache and Pain in Limbs.

Dear Mr. Editor—For more than a year I suffered with misery in the back, dull headache, pain in the limbs, was somewhat constipated and slept poorly at night until I was about ready to collapse. Seeing an account of the wonderful qualities of "Anurie," prepared by Doctor Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., I sent for a box, and before using the whole box I felt and still feel improved. My sleep is refreshing, nicely reduced, and life is not the drag it was before. I most cheerfully recommend this remedy to sufferers from like ailments.
W. A. ROBERTS, Harris Station, Ohio.

NOTE: You've all undoubtedly heard of the famous Dr. Pierce and his well-known medicines. Well, this prescription is one that has been successfully used for many years by the physicians and specialists of Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for kidney complaints, and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, the weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine, and urinary troubles.

Up to this time, "Anurie" has not been on sale to the public, but by the persuasion of many patients and the increased demand for this wonderful healing Tablet, Dr. Pierce has finally decided to put it into the drug stores of the country within immediate reach of all sufferers.

I know of one or two leading druggists in town who have managed to procure a supply of "Anurie" for their anxious customers in and around this locality. If not obtainable send one dime by mail to Dr. Pierce for trial package or 50 cents for full treatment.

EDITOR: Please insert this letter in some conspicuous place in your paper.

E. Peoples, Mrs. Charles Hayes, Miss Harriett Heskett, Mrs. John Tafford and Mrs. Treash Buchanan. Mrs. William Deener, of Columbus, Mrs. Bessie Clark, of Dennison, and Mrs. Frances Stanger, of Michigan, were also present.

The lodge colors, purple and white, were used in decorating the hall and dining room, and pansies, lilies and roses, were used on the table where the banquet was served.

Be Helpful.
"It's cheap and easy to destroy. There is not a joyful boy or innocent girl buoyant with fine purposes of duty in all the street full of eager and rosy faces, but a cynic can kill and dishearten with a single word. Despondency comes readily enough to the most sanguine. Yes, this is easy, but to help the young soul add energy, inspire hope and blow the clouds into a useful flame, to redeem defeat by new thought, by firm action, that is not easy, that is the work of divine men."—R. W. Emerson.

HOLD FAST TO REAL PATRIOTISM!

The sober, non-jingo people of this republic will generally agree that we would only be justified in engaging in war when necessary to defend substantial and indisputable rights, preserve our liberty, or repel invasion. Wars of conquest or aggression may accord with a policy of imperialism, but they have no place in the fulfillment of the destiny of a democracy.

We have a republican form of government. Our liberty is not threatened by a foreign foe. In crucial times in our nation's history, the American people have not failed. The Revolutionary War was fought by volunteers. It did not take long for the enlisted men of the Civil War to become veterans.

Lack of readiness is not our peril. Our immediate danger lies in the possibility that we may be swept from our moorings by the tide of sentiment that, under the guise of patriotism, is actually based on commercial greed.

Frederick C. Howe in his very able work "Why War?" points out that foreign loans and investments have been the prime cause of war for the past thirty years. When capital has exploited its home country, when its profits have become so great as to depress interest rates, then it goes abroad for investment into countries whose resources have not yet been exploited, where the demand for capital is strongest and interest rates are very high.

The weaker nations, the smaller countries, the unexplored and unexploited countries, offer the most tempting opportunities and the largest profits.

But in such countries the governments are weak, investments insecure; hence capital has invented the new doctrine that the "flag follows business" and that the country must defend the financial interests of its citizens abroad. This is capital's new test of "patriotism." This doctrine, which originated in England and spread over Europe, was adopted as a policy in this country under the last two Republican administrations when the sordid influence of "dollar diplomacy" ruled in the State department. It has involved us in trouble in Haiti. It has discredited us in Guatemala. It is back of the demands for intervention in Mexico. It is a prostitution of patriotism that would tax the people of a nation hundreds of millions of dollars and send our soldiers to sacrifice their lives for the purpose of insuring exorbitant profits for speculators in foreign investments and foreign loans.

Are not the same impelling motives back of the money power today?

When great loans and investments and munition profits are dependent on the outcome of the European war, it is not inevitable that the Morgan interests, in combination with the munition traders, will employ every agency at their command to create war scares and build sentiment for a big Army and a big Navy which will extend their markets and protect their loans and investments?

It is likewise inevitable that these powerful forces should decry all propositions for peace and seek to undermine the substance and pervert the spirit of our neutrality.

When so much of the world has gone war mad the first patriotic duty of this nation is to preserve our impartiality; hold fast to our friendships. Our neutrality is a contribution of tremendous value to the world's future. If we pass thru this crisis without becoming embroiled, without exhausting our vitality and resources, we shall have rendered a great and lasting service. We shall have demonstrated that national security is not dependent on military superiority, that the European system of rival armaments for preserving peace is a delusion. We shall have made it clear to all mankind that imperialism is a menace and that democracy stands for peace.

And above all, let us maintain a true standard of patriotism.

Let us protest against the cowardly doctrine of capital that it is the office of Government to guarantee the investments of individuals.

BIRTHDAYS

By Walt Mason

A birthday is a solemn thing; a fellow realizes then, how speedily the days take wing, the days that do not come again. A little grayer than last year, a little slower in my gait, I feel the dump is drawing near, and still I keep my smile on straight. A little failure of my sight, a bit more dreaminess in my ears, a few more aches, but that's all right! I would not stop the sending years. My bald spot is a bit more wide, my muscles grow a trifle slack; I have more wrinkles in my side, a few more cracks are in my back. But you see a cult of gray hairs above my gladder heart than mine, and all about me there are friends, who keep an old gent feeling fine. Their kind words make my bosom swell, and fill my pinhead eyes with tears; they tell me I am looking well, and hope I'll live a hundred years. A few more symptoms of the gout have vainly tried to kill my joy, a few more teeth have fallen out, but I'm as happy as a boy.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY

Col. Rutin Gibson Pleasant, the new Governor of Louisiana, and a member of the new school of political leaders in the South, is 45 years old today. Along the Gulf, everybody knows Col. Pleasant. He was finishing his law studies in northern colleges when the Spanish War broke out. Hastening home, he organized a volunteer regiment, the First Louisiana Infantry, and equipped the organization in record time. After abandonment of his regiment, Col. Pleasant began law practice at Shreveport. Within a few years he was city attorney. In 1911 he was made assistant attorney general of the state, and in the following year was elected Attorney General. Col. Pleasant was born at Shiloh, La., June 2, 1871. He attended various colleges in Louisiana, including the State University, and studied law at Harvard and Yale. While he was city attorney at Shreveport he married one of the belles of that city, Miss Anne Ector, daughter of a general in the Confederate army. The executive mansion at Baton Rouge is the scene of pleasant entertainment and the social center of Louisiana. Col. Pleasant is extremely popular not only in his own state but thruout the entire South. He is of the new school of political leaders that are dominating the issues of the past and focusing attention on the problems of the present day.

PEOPLES' FORUM

ON PREPAREDNESS.

Editor The Tribune:

If your paper correctly quoted Rev. Buxton in his "Memorial Day" address he made the following statement: "So long as the present condition of high armaments exist there is but one course open for peaceful nations to pursue. And that is preparedness to meet any foe that seeks to curtail or destroy our national independence."

I submit this proposition for the consideration of Mr. Buxton, that if his position is carried to its logical conclusion, nations will forever continue their insane diabolical and barbarous preparation for war.

The existence of two or more nations is prim a facie evidence that each seeks to curtail the independence of the other and do so by the very means of their existence. Every person whom I meet (in fact every person whom I do not meet) curtails my independence and I also curtail his or her independence. And independent national existence is an absurdity and a contradiction I recommend to all who are seduced by the preparedness policy a book—"The Great Illusion" by Norman Angell.

For many years this book has been subject to the severest criticism and the best criticism of it up to date, is a smear or a leer.

I would ask Mr. Buxton to publicly name a single nation or a group of nations that designs to destroy the integrity of this nation, and how, and why.

This nation is on economic benefit to the nations of the earth and they are not so foolish as not to know it. They would be sending the arrow to their own heart by seeking to destroy. The source of the whole matter is that we slay the capitalist of some other nation, only seek to rest from the carnality of this nation some of their best men take.

The whole thing can be summarized down to the gold and the silver. The gold and the silver of the churches says, "The greatest of all evils." I am not of the school who never become religious, nor do I believe in the gold and silver. The gold and silver of the churches says, "The greatest of all evils." I am not of the school who never become religious, nor do I believe in the gold and silver.

But let us get rid of some of our preparedness. Let us not pray "Thy kingdom come on earth," while we seek by preparation for war the very incarnation of the most diabolical hell ever conceived. Let us quit pretend-

PRESIDENTIAL POINTERS

Women will have the privilege of voting for the presidential electors, next November in the following 11 states: Washington, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, California, Arizona, Kansas, Nebraska, Nevada and Nevada. The percentage of these women will exceed 100 and they might easily vote for the election of a man who would not be elected if it were not for the fact that the vote will be given. It is not likely that more than 100 women will vote next November.

MAN'S PEAL WORTH.

A man should always be judged by his real worth. The prevailing fault of our time is the estimating of manhood by the accidents of life rather than by its essentials. Not what a man has or what happens to him; not wealth, nor noble blood, nor crowns, nor titles, but the things that are in him and shining through him: his thoughts, motives, springs of action—these constitute the man.—D. J. Burrell.

ing to love our enemies to do good to them that hate us, and despoilingly use us, while we instill in the minds of young and old alike national, race and religious hatred of the most dangerous type. If we are going on acting as the hyena, the leopard and the tiger, let us get rid of our moralism and claim to be nothing more than we are—brothers to the beasts of the jungle.

I do not offer these remarks in any sense as a corking critic but in a serious sadness over wasted heroism and prostitution of the intelligence of our educators.

MRS. GREENIZEN
IS CALLED AWAY

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the late home for Mrs. Mary Ann Greenizen, aged 76, of Warsaw, who died Sunday following a long illness from heart trouble. Interment was made in Valley View cemetery.

Mrs. Greenizen was born in Switzerland, and came with her husband to America in 1886. While in Switzerland she was a member of the German Lutheran church, and after removing to Warsaw, united with the Methodist church where she remained a faithful member until death. Although unable to attend most of the time, she remained a true Christian, and welcomed death in the same cheerful way that she had always met sorrow and disappointment. Although her suffering was great, she never felt too ill to smile and speak a comforting word to those about her.

Her husband having died last August, the following children are left to mourn her loss: Mrs. Henry Darr, of Warsaw; Mrs. Robert Kamnick, of Warsaw; Mrs. Joshua Kuhn, of Coshocton; S. W. Greenizen, of Keene, and Miss Rosa, of the home. She also leaves one brother, Godolph Neiderhouse, of Mound City, Mo., nine grandchildren, and one great-granddaughter.

CHICKADEE

Parus atricapillus

Length, about five and one-fourth inches.

Range: Resident in the United States (except the southern half east of the plains), Canada, and Alaska. Habits and economic status: Because of its delightful notes, its confiding ways, and its fearlessness, the chickadee is one of our best known birds. It responds to encouragement, and by hanging within its reach a constant supply of sweet the chickadee can be made a regular visitor to the garden and orchard. Though insignificant in size, the chickadee is far from being so from the economic standpoint, owing to their numbers and activity. While one locality is being scrutinized for food by a larger bird, ten are being searched by the smaller species. The chickadee's food is made up of insects and vegetable matter in the proportion of seven of the former to three of the latter. Moths and caterpillars are favorites and form about one-third of the whole. Beetles, ants, wasps, bugs, flies, grass hoppers, and spiders make up the rest. The vegetable food is composed of seeds, largely those of pines, with a few of the poison ivy and some weeds. There are few more useful birds than the chickadees.

The Pentateuch.

The Pentateuch, or, as it is usually called, "The Book of Moses" (the first five books of the Old Testament), is not thought by the scholars of today to have been written by Moses. Moses could not have written the whole work, since it contains the account of his death and burial. The opinion of the best scholars of today is that Genesis dates from 750 to 500 B. C., Leviticus about 450 or 500 B. C., the whole five books (Pentateuch) reaching its present shape between 450 and 350 B. C.—New York American.

Sumner's Ready Reply.

Charles Sumner when in London gave a ready reply. At a dinner given in his honor he spoke of "the ashes" of some dead hero. "Ashes! What American English!" rudely broke in an Englishman. "Dust you mean, Mr. Sumner. We don't burn our dead in this country." "Yes," instantly replied Mr. Sumner, with a courteous smile; "your poet Gray tells us that 'even in our ashes live their wonted fires.'" The American was not criticised again that evening.—Argonne.

We put it up to
Hundreds of Dentists

Long before SENRECO was offered to you we submitted it to hundreds of dentists, requesting that they put it to every test. Told them that we believed Senreco to be an unusually good dentifrice, especially as to its cleansing qualities and its remedial action on sore, soft, bleeding gums; in the treatment of Pyorrhea, etc. Submitted the formula and asked them their opinion. They tested Senreco from every angle; some going even so far as to make a chemical analysis—

And They Voted Yes

With practically one accord—said:

"Senreco appeals to me more than any dentifrice I have ever seen. 'I cannot say too much for Senreco. It's one of the best I have used.' 'I can recommend Senreco as the best.' 'Makes the teeth clean and is free from injurious ingredients, including pumice and grit.' 'I am indeed glad to get a tooth paste that does the work.' 'Congratulations you on formulating a dentifrice that gives one a new idea of mouth cleanliness, etc.' (These quotations are from the dentists' reports. Originals on file at our office.)

With such endorsements from the men who know why not go to your dealer today and get a tube of SENRECO—35c. Keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN, and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay.

A copy of the folder, "The Most General Disease in the World" together with a liberal trial size tube of SENRECO will be mailed you for 4c in stamps. The Sanel Remedies Co., Inc. Dept. B, Masonic Temple, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Announcement Made By Cox At Democratic Convention

COLUMBUS, OHIO, JUNE 1.—Friend of former Governor James M. Cox staged a spectacular demonstration for him in the Democratic state convention Thursday afternoon which ended in Cox announcing himself as a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination at the August primaries.

The Cox forces evidently had prepared for a stampede. Taking their cue from War Secretary Newton D. Baker, who in his keynote speech, advised the renomination of Cox, the Daytonian's friends raised the roof with deafening calls for Cox.

Old friends of Cox were among the first to get on their feet and urge others to do the same. The Franklin county delegation of 54 was among those who didn't respond, but remained seated.

Baker having completed his speech, Cox came to the front and waved for silence.

Denounces Willis

He launched at once into denunciation of the present Republican state administration.

He said the Willis administration had no part whatever in bringing about the "new order" in Ohio and that Governor Willis himself had no sympathy or understanding with the "new day" that has dawned in Ohio.

The Willis administration has degenerated into a "mess of spoils," Cox charged, asserting that state expenses have been increased $2,000,000 a year, and that politics has been injected into the management of state institutions.

Cox mentioned former Governor Judson Harmon in his remarks. Harmon's name was the signal for another strong ovation.

"I typify the opposition to Frank B. Willis," Cox declared, reverting to his argument against the present government.

Five-Minute Ovation

When Cox declared he will be a candidate and will file his declaration within a few days, the convention broke into a bedlam. Cox was given a five-minute ovation.

When Cox finished speaking there were calls for Pomerene.

The convention refused to wait until Pomerene was elected formally as permanent chairman but demanded that he begin speaking at once, which he did.

Pomerene said Democrats will win this year in Ohio no matter whether they nominate Cox, Sandies, Harmon or anyone else.

"Any real Democrat can win," he said.

Cheers For Sandies

Sandies' name was received with a volume of applause somewhat less than given Cox's name. It showed, however, that Sandies had a big following among delegates.

Pomerene discussed national issues, lauding the Underwood tariff bill.

Pomerene ridiculed the statement recently attributed to Harry M. Daugherty, Republican candidate for United States senator, that the Republican slogan this year should be "bread, butter and business."

"Everybody has bread and butter now and the industries of our country cannot take care of the business that is being thrust upon them," Pomerene said.

He said the people of this country have no patience with "caducity howlers" at this stage.

Pomerene said the Wilson administration has fulfilled all the promises it made in 1912.

The senator rapped the "militarism" of Theodore Roosevelt and the convention loudly applauded.

Speaking of President Wilson's foreign policy, Pomerene defended Wilson's course in permitting the shipment of arms and ammunition to European belligerents.

Pomerene said he was not willing to surrender the freedom of the seas to any nation on earth. He insisted that neutrals, in pursuing legitimate business, have as much right on the seas as belligerents.

Following Pomerene's speech the convention settled down to business. Pomerene was formally chosen permanent chairman succeeding Baker, but the rest of the convention's temporary officers were retained as permanent. Reports of committees were heard on a dated upon.

Come Back In August

Chairman Ed Moore, Youngstown, of the committee on resolutions, characterized Governor Willis as the authorized Governor Willis as the "mirth-provoking incumbent" in the State House. This came in the course of Moore's report for the committee. The convention voted unanimously not to adopt a platform now but to reconvene for this purpose not later than Aug. 30. It is expected to have President Wilson open the National Democratic campaign here at that time.

A resolution was adopted endorsing the record of President Wilson, Senator Pomerene and the administrations of former Governors Harmon and Cox.

This resolution referred to the Willis administration as "the most incompetent and inferior in the history of Ohio."

The convention, as a last formality, selected the "good old Democratic rooster" as its emblem once more and adjourned at 4:02 p. m.

Little Else To Do

With general agreement among leaders to postpone the adoption of a state platform until the first week in September, the convention did little else Thursday beside naming presidential electors and listening to eulogies of President Wilson and other party leaders.

Secretary of War Baker, as temporary chairman, sounded the "keynote" on behalf of the national administration and Senator Pomerene as permanent chairman promised Democratic victory in nation and state in November.

FEARED SHE WOULD BE BURIED ALIVE

Strange Provision Made in Will of Mrs. Laura Hemans White.

Los Angeles, Cal.—The will of Mrs. Laura Hemans White, who died in Pittsburgh nearly a year ago, has been received by Public Administrator Bryson, in view of the distribution of the estate in Los Angeles county. The city of Los Angeles desires to purchase property belonging to the estate, at 3721 Downey avenue, now North Broadway, for school purposes.

Before the deal could be closed it was necessary to have the will, because a clause bequeathed the property to Mrs. Apollonia P. Melber for life. After Mrs. Melber's death the property is to go to Mrs. Katherine L. Hahn, a niece of Mrs. Melber, and daughter of Victor Hahn.

Because of her fear of a premature burial Mrs. White provided unusual means to determine that the spark of life had left her body before it was cremated. In her will she declared:

"Having been all my life subject to bondage through fear of premature burial I will my body be kept until evident signs of decomposition declare themselves—at least a week—that it be visited and carefully inspected three times daily, for which the person performing this office shall, upon making affidavit that it has been faithfully performed, receive the sum of $50. Just before cremation it shall be stabbed three times through the heart by a duly accredited physician, who shall receive therefor the sum of $20."

A trust provision prohibits distribution of the estate for ten years. Among the holdings are a Bakersfield ranch, lots in San Diego and lots at Sunset Beach and La Canada Park.

THIEF RETURNS BABY'S BANK

Roba House, Conscience Troubles Him and He Brings Back Child's Hoard.

Sierra Vista, Cal.—A thief with a conscience entered the home of Clark Rubido here the other day, and, after decamping with valuables amounting to $100, returned to the burglarized house and deposited a child's bank containing two dollars in pennies, which had been part of the loot, on the front porch.

The Rubido family visited friends in Los Angeles that day and about noon a neighbor, Mrs. Caroline Martin, saw a well-dressed young man carrying a suit case walk up to the front door of the Rubido home, fumble with the lock a moment and walk in.

Mrs. Martin thought the stranger was probably a friend of the Rubidos, and, when the young man reappeared some time after, still carrying the suit case, she told him that the Rubido family was passing the day in the city. The young man thanked her and hurried on.

Half an hour later Mrs. Martin saw the young man come back and deposit something on the front porch of the house.

When the Rubidos returned they found that the pleasant-faced young man had carried away all their silver, several articles of jewelry and $30. The baby's penny bank, which had been returned, was about the only movable valuable not taken.

MAN DIES THRICE IN DAY

Comes to Life in Hospital and Struggles With Shroud That Swathed Him.

Denver, Colo.—Death comes but once to the ordinary man, but to Charles Gallagher it came three times before it decided to remain. Three times in one day in the County hospital nurses and physicians pronounced Charles Gallagher dead—only to learn in two of the instances that the evidences of death had been false.

Twice Gallagher came to life to struggle with the shroud which swathed him, and it was not until rigor mortis stiffened the body following the third death that the authorities felt safe in turning the body over to the coroner. Gallagher, a farm hand, weighing nearly 300 pounds, fell from a hay wagon and broke his back.
